The Earth breathes... and it's Beautiful...

Dear Guest

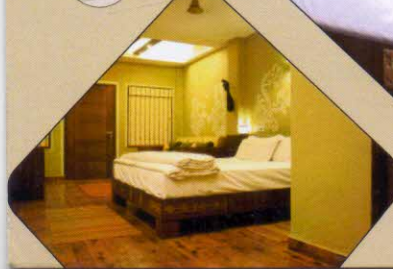

Welcome to Breathing Earth- "The Earth breathes, and it's Beautiful"

Rest is not idleness, but to lie sometimes on the grass under trees on a summer's day listening to the murmur of the water, or watching the clouds float across the sky, and is by no means a waste of time."

"Life is not only work, life is not only family, life is not only about the world around you, life is right inside you. And to become absolutely alive, you must know about this piece of Earth in its entirety!

This piece of earth was chosen and designed by the Purkayastha family members, to blossom yourself to a state of awareness living. Every nook and corner has their personal touch and a feel good factor. From diet and exercise to spirituality and life coaching-with a focus on personal attention, luxury amenities, and myriad activities that embrace fitness, sensible dining, and holistic achievement.

At Breathing Earth the mud houses and rooms have been designed to keep you close to mother earth, give you personal space to relax and be thoroughly in harmony with the serene surroundings. The resort is spread over.....acres with groves, luxuriant landscapes, small organic gardens and natural ponds.
